U.S. Seminary Head Asks Great School In Israel, Gives Degree To Ben-Gurion

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion received the honorary degree of doctor of Hebrew letters from Dr. Louis I. Finkelstein, chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, at a ceremony held on the grounds of the Hebrew University in the Terra Santa Convent. The ceremony was to have been held in the United States during Mr. Ben-Gurion's visit last year, but was shifted to Jerusalem because the Prime Minister's other obligations did not leave time.

In the citation, before he handed Mr. Ben-Gurion the scroll, Dr. Finkelstein declared that "you the Almighty favored with riches of spirit: mastery of law and philosophy, languages and literature, social and political and economic thought. Happy is the generation you lead, happy the country whose citizens you serve."

Dr. Finkelstein took the occasion to launch his project for the establishment in Jerusalem of an academy where scholars and men of affairs of world renown might gather to exchange ideas and build bridges between the spheres of knowledge of the specialists, between the theoreticians and the men of action, between the old and young and between the past and the present, reports the New York Times.

As a first step toward the creation of an academy, Dr. Finkelstein hopes to make arrangements for students of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America to spend one of their years of study in Jerusalem. He also hopes to start a series of special lectures sponsored by the academy and open to the public in Jerusalem. Experts such as the late John Dewey; and Bertrand Russell were to speak as part of [illegible] all parts of the world were to exchange.

Replying to Dr. Finkelstein, Mr. Ben-Gurion called for a "partnership in pioneering and in culture, a physical and spiritual partnership between Israel and the best of American Jewish youth and American Jewish scholars.

Israel cannot rebuild the state "without the greatest measure of cooperation from all Jews dispersed throughout the world and above all, the Jews of America," Mr. Ben-Gurion said. "We need scholars and scientists and men of vision—and specialists in every field of industry and agriculture—from among the Jews of America if we are to build that new wisdom of Israel on which all-out economic, military and educational effort must be founded."

Picking up Dr. Finkelstein's references to the need for the broad communication of ideas, Mr. Ben-Gurion observed that the genius of the Jewish people had suffered from onesideness and limitedness ever since they lost their independence after the revolt of Bar-Kochba, leader of the Jews in their great insurrection against the Romans from 132 to 135 A. D.

He added that the Jews had thereafter endeavored "to make commentaries on the Bible and commentaries on those commentaries fill the great gap left by the destruction of their sovereignty and of that rounded full life which is enjoyed only by an independent nation.

"With the loss of political freedom, the Jewish people became subject everywhere and at all times to two authorities — that of the Jewish heritage and on the other hand that of the nation in whose midst it lived," the Prime Minister asserted.

The Prime Minister, standing in the brilliant sunshine, paused and then raised his voice to emphasize the climax of his address, according to the New York Times.

"Now that we are once more an independent nation in the Holy Land

W.J.C. Calls Russian Emigre Groups Anti-Semitic

A strong anti-Semitic and anti-democratic bias is revealed in the statements and publications of major groups of Russian emigres, who are now receiving substantial American support as potential allies of the United States in the struggle against Soviet communism, according to a study of these groups issued by the World Jewish Congress. The study, conducted by Anatole Goldstein for the Institute of Jewish Affairs of the world-wide Jewish organization, analyzes the attitude of four major groups of recent Russian expatriates, active in the U.S. and in Europe, toward the Jewish problem, as a "touchstone" for testing their political views.

The groups analyzed, made up of German DP camp inmates, former German slave laborers and war prisoners, deserters from the Russian army and the children of Russian emigres of the revolutionary period, are the "Solidarists," also known as the National Labor Union of the New Generation; members of the All-National Sovereign State Movement; followers of the late Lt. Gen. Andrei Vlassov, who led a Russian legion in Hitler's armies, and Ukrainian nationalist groups. The significance of Russian emigres in American eyes, the study reports, is revealed by the formation, in March, 1951, of the American Committee for the Liberation of the Peoples of Russia, for the purpose of giving Russian refugees moral and material support, and the fact that so important a personality as Admiral Alan G. Kirk, former U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, became head of this Committee [illegible] of distributing its propaganda leaflets."

The "Solidarists," the study recounts, developed in Yugoslavia, in the 1930's, among the children of former officials and courtiers to the regime of Tsar Nicholas II. The members of this group, "devotees of Mussolini's corporate state, adversaries of democracy, worshippers of the leader principle and admirers of Hitler," transferred their headquarters to Berlin three years after the Nazis came to power. They were trained by the Nazis and used as officials in the Nazi-occupied sections of Russia, and their documents and publications show a consistent anti-Jewish bias. One plan for the postwar organization of Russia calls for a ghettoization of Jews, if the country came under Solidarists control.

In the postwar period, the study notes, "when the possibility of immigration to the United States became a reality, the Solidarists began to camouflage their Fascist tendencies and to conceal their anti-Semitism." Pointing out that the group now omits from its program, any mention of policy toward the Jewish minority in Russia, the WJC study declares: "The omission is merely the concealment of a policy whose proclamation at this time might have a most adverse effect upon the Solidarist movement in the United States."

The second Russian emigre group discussed in the study, the Russian All-National State Movement, was founded in 1937 among Russian emigres in Germany. Its newspaper, Nabat, closely associated with this movement, the study reveals, anti-Semitic and anti-democratic articles are published, including one major article on "the Jewish question" which "is a brilliant example of how an extremely anti-Semitic article can be written without exposing the writer to the risk of prosecution for criminal propaganda."

A number of emigre groups, including "reactionary monarchists, Fascists and self-styled democrats," grouped around the figure of General Vlassov, the report points out, are now "stressing the necessity of uniting into one large body." While some of these elements lay claim to democratic orientation, it is stated, the fact is that their idol, General Vlassov, organized a Russian legion under the Nazi banner, and that during the war he and his aides made frequent anti-Jewish statements and policy declarations.

ISRAEL EMPOWERS FOREIGN MINISTER, NOW IN U.S., TO SOLVE CONFLICT BETWEEN U.J.A. AND BOND DRIVE

Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett of Israel indicated at Philadelphia, Pa., that he would "help smooth over the difficulties" that had developed between the campaigns in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal and the $500,000,000 State of Israel bond issue in the U.S.

Commenting on the report from Jerusalem that the Israeli Government had empowered him to coordinate the two drives, Mr. Sharett said that he would meet with officials of both in New York at the completion of his nationwide tour on behalf of both the U. J. A. and the Israeli bond issue.

The Israeli government's decision authorizing Foreign Minister Sharett to seek to settle the long-standing conflict between the Israeli bond drive and the United Jewish Appeal brings into the open one of the more serious conflicts in Jewish life which has had repercussions both in Israel and the United States, says the New York Herald Tribune.

The United Jewish Appeal, formerly under the leadership of Henry Morgenthau and Henry Monsor, had for years been the sole large source of funds for Israel. All money obtained by the U. J. A. is in essence a gift to Israel and tax deductible.

After the Arab-Israeli war, a feeling developed among leading Jews that Israel would ultimately have to reduce its requests for gifts and seek investment capital. As a result, sale of Israeli bonds as an investment was started in the United States more than a year ago. Mr. Morgenthau and Mr. Monsor took over the handling of the [illegible] bond issue.

[illegible] certain property [illegible] migration and settlement of newcomers in Israel.

The U. J. A., under the new leadership of Edward M. M. Warburg, continued its activities, and the bond sale began. Although one drive appealed for the gift dollar and the other for the investment dollar, they were seeking funds from the same individuals, and friction developed.

Part of the friction centered around the timing of the two campaigns. Some suggested that the bond sale be conducted for six months and the U. J. A. drive for the other six months. This proved unacceptable. Another problem was leadership in various communities. Some community leaders agreed to work for both the U.J.A. and the bond sale, but others devoted themselves to one or the other. Personality clashes among leaders in the two groups were a factor.

Both Mr. Warburg and Mr. Monsor visited Israel to discuss the matter with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and the Israeli Cabinet, but up to now no satisfactory solution had been found. Mr. Sharett's principal task will be to resolve the difficulties and to coordinate the timing of the two drives.

Officials of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, the parent body embracing 255 Jewish welfare funds in 800 cities expect to meet with Mr. Sharett. The various welfare funds conduct local drives and a major portion of the money is allocated to the U. J. A.

In his first public address during his present visit, Mr. Sharett stressed at the national cash mobilization conference of the United Jewish Appeal in Chicago how important it was for American Jews to support the U. J. A. and the bond issue to aid the fledgling nation, says the New York Times.

The U. J. A. and the Israeli bond issue have two distinct functions. The bond drive, which was formally launched in May, 1951, is devoted to the sale of Israeli Government bonds and the money is utilized for the development of Israel's economic framework. The United Jewish Appeal seeks philanthropic dollars to carry out the rehabilitation and resettlement programs for newcomers to Israel, including the establishment of agricultural settlements.

Money derived from the U. J. A., which has been in existence for more than thirteen years, also is used to aid Jews in the United States and throughout the world. The Appeal's major constituent agencies are the United Israel Appeal, the chief beneficiary; the Joint Distribution Committee and the United Service for New Americans.

The United Israel Appeal, through its affiliated agencies—principally the Jewish Agency for Palestine, its functional arm—carries out the rehabilitation and resettlement program in Israel. The Joint Distribution Committee conducts programs for distressed and needy Jews in various parts of the world, as well as for elderly and sick Jewish people in Israel. The United Service for New Americans aids Jewish displaced person who have arrived in the U.S.

Spokesmen at the United Jewish Appeal stressed that there was no basic difference between the Appeal and the bond drive, according to the New York Times. They pointed out that there was a general agreement that in order to develop Israel's economy and to provide for the absorption of 700,000 newcomers, "both free and investment dollars are urgently needed."

Moshe Sharett, Israel's foreign minister, said that the serious shortage of hard currency in Israel has forced the nation to adopt "makeshift methods" of economic existence. He declared that this shortage of funds was jeopardizing the full development of Israel's agricultural and industrial potential, particularly the "epoch-making discoveries of mineral wealth."

In listing the recent discovery of copper, manganese, iron and phosphates in Israel's southern area, known as the Negeb, Mr. Sharett asserted that these finds would "in all probability" sooner or later include the discovery of oil, reports the New York Times.

He stressed that Israel's economic future was "only a question of funds" and that the four-year-old state was "richly endowed with Marovitz, Henri Julien Avenue, and the late Max Marovitz, takes place on June 8, at half-past five o'clock, at Beth David Synagogue, are: Mrs. H. Shapiro, aunt of the bride-elect, of Sao Paulo, Brazil; Mr. and Mrs. F. Shapiro, and daughter, Miss Ida Shapiro, her uncle, aunt, and cousin; Miss Rose Wilkins, her cousin; Mr. and Mrs. J. Tennenbaum, and son, Mark, brother-in-law, sister, and nephew, of the groom-elect, all of Philadelphia, Pa.; and P. Handler, uncle of the bride-elect, of New York.

Here for the unveiling of a memorial to the late Mrs. Samuel Bloomfield, will be her children: Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Joseph, and children, Leila and Allan, of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Dr. Arthur I. Bloomfield, of New York; and Dr. and Mrs. Morton W. Bloomfield, of Columbus, Ohio, all of whom will visit their father, and father-in-law, Samuel Bloomfield, University Street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Cohn, Victoria Avenue, were in Boston, Mass., to visit their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Levine.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cohen, Cote des Neiges Road, spent several days at Domaine d'Esterel, in Ste. Marguerite.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Zabitsky, Carleton Avenue, were dinner hosts at the Elm Ridge Country Club, with the immediate family present, in honour of Miss Frances Scopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zalman Scopp, and Jerome Martin Sacks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sacks, de Vimy Avenue, whose marriage takes place on June 8, at Adath Israel Synagogue. Miss Scopp wore an aquamarine-blue silk shantung cocktail dress in off-the-shoulder style, having puffed short sleeves, and a full skirt; and had a string of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom-elect. Presentation of a silver carving set was made.

Mrs. Samuel Tiger, Park Avenue, gave a party to celebrate the eighth birthday of her son, Michael, at which those present were: Deborah, his sister; and Vivian, Roslyn, and Raphael Saginur; Pesha and Sol. Zuckerman, Phyllis Tiger, Norman Horta, Harvey Gold, Michael Chandler, Peter Silver, Mona Grosin, Michael and Ben. Joffe, Lily Rosensweig, Mort. Josselefsky, Bonnie Stern, and Harold Raven.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiseman, 6102 Hutchison Street, entertained at an afternoon party for their daughter, Miss Tillie Wiseman, and her fiancee, Morris Beigleman, son of Mrs. I. Beigleman, Clark Street. There were thirty-five guests present, at tables centered with roses. Mrs. Wiseman wore a navy-blue crepe dress, with a pleated skirt; Mrs. Beigleman, mother of the groom-elect, wore a grey faille suit, with navy-blue beaded trimming. Miss Annie Wiseman, sister of the bride-elect, wore a turquoise-blue and black taffeta dress, with a black patent leather belt. Miss Tillie Wiseman, the honouree, wore a blue taffeta cocktail dress, fashioned with a backless bodice; and straight skirt with a draped side panel; and she had a corsage of red and white roses. The marriage will take place on January 18, at Beth David Synagogue.

Mrs. F. Mendel, Rockland Avenue, entertained at a dinner party for Miss Marilyn Gruman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Gruman, Bourret Avenue, and her fiance, Al. Fraiberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fraiberg, Mountain Sights Avenue. There were twenty guests present. A centrepiece of variegated spring flowers adorned the table. Mrs. Mendel wore a grey silk shantung dress, having three-quarter-length sleeves and a V-neckline. Mrs. Fraiberg wore a navy-blue crepe dress with a sweetheart neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a slim skirt. Mrs. Gruman wore a blue silk shantung dress, fashioned with a V-neckline, flared skirt, and three-quarter-length sleeves. Miss Gruman, the bride-elect, wore a navy-blue sheer dress trimmed with white. Mesdames L. Mendel, H. Mendel, and B. Mendel, assisted in serving. The marriage will take place June 8, at the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue.

Hon. George Drew, leader of the Progressive-Conservative Party, will address the graduating class of the Jewish Immigrant Aid Society's night school on Sunday, June 8, at 2:30 p.m., in the Montreal YM-YWHA, 265 Mount Royal Avenue West. Jerry Segall, 4928 Pensard Avenue, is president. The annual meeting of the JIAS will be held at the same time as the graduation exercises for the New Canadian students who entered its classes in English, French, and citizenship.

DEATHS

Harry Spector, 5220 Victoria Avenue, aged eighty-five, died on Saturday, May 17, at the Jewish General Hospital after a brief illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mannie Greenberg Spector; two sons, John J. Spector, Q.C., and Reuben Spector; a daughter, Mrs. Joseph H. Becker (Sophie); four grandchildren, Mrs. B. J. Kaganov, formerly Miss Freema Becker; Seymour Spector, Linda and Barbara Spector; and two sisters, Mrs. Myer Goldberg (Rose); and Mrs. A. Gold (Annie). He was the father of the late Irving Spector. Funeral service took place from Paperman's, Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat officiating. Burial was in Shaar Hashomayim cemetery. Shiva was at the home. Mr. Spector was a retired optometrist. Born in Russia, he was brought to Canada in 1883 with six brothers and three sisters. He settled in Montreal in 1885 and had lived here since. He retired in 1929. In 1895 he married Miss Mannie Greenberg at Ottawa, Ont., in the first marriage ceremony to take place in the first synagogue built in that city, on St. Patrick Street.

MARRIAGES

WEISS-SAPOWITCH

The marriage of Nita Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Sapowitch, of Buffalo, N. Y., to Gerald Howard Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore T. Weiss, of Philadelphia, Pa., took place on Sunday, May 18, at half-past five o'clock, in a candlelight ceremony, in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler, with Dr. Joseph L. Fink, Rabbi, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of antique ivory satin, banded with heirloom rose-point lace, which formed a wide panel over the full hooped skirt, falling to a full train. She had matching lace mitts, and her mother's wedding veil, edged with matching lace, caught to a lace cap, embroidered in seed-pearl beads, and carried a fan of fleurs d'amour and white orchids. Miss Harriet Fyllis Pasternak, Elderwood Drive, Toronto, the bride's cousin, was maid of honour, in a strapless gown of pink nylon-lace-net over taffeta, with bows of white ribbon, veiled by the net on the skirt, and a matching stole. She had a pink net veil, banded with white ribbon, and white wrist-length gloves, and carried pink carnations on a white feather fan. The bridesmaids, dressed like the maid of honour in pink, with American Beauty colour in the ribbon bows and edgings, were: Misses Janet Rose and Joan Eichler, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Sally Grass, of Binghampton, N. Y.; and Mrs. Lester Schiff, of Boston, Mass. The junior bridesmaids, Nancy Irene Pasternak, Elderwood Drive, Toronto, and Marsha Roisen, wore gowns like the bridesmaids'. All carried American Beauty-coloured carnations on pink feather fans. Lynne Ruth Rosenblatt, was flower girl, in a pink nylon lace dress, with matching flowers in her hair. She carried a pink basket of rose petals. Richard H. Rosenblatt, the groom's cousin, was best man. Ushers were: Gerald P. Ross, Robert Weiss, and Frank Rose, all of Philadelphia, Pa.; Dr. Roland Anthone, Dr. Sidney Anthone; and Douglas Rohet, of Toronto. Smilax formed the background for the white tapers, and the arbour covered with pale pink carnations was banked with standards of pale pink flowers. The bride's mother wore a dinner gown of pale grey silk-chiffon over taffeta, having a bodice draped with camellia-pink chiffon forming a train; also a grey cap, embroidered in pearl beads, elbow-length suede gloves, and a wrist bouquet of cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother was in a gown of pink lace over taffeta and tulle, with hat of pink lilacs, pink suede gloves, and wrist bouquet of cymbidium orchids. For the trip to Miami Beach, Florida, the bride wore a blue gabardine suit, with Peter Pan collar, embroidered with navy-blue beading, white straw hat, and white orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Buffalo, N. Y., on their return.

Cite Culture As Survival Need

The American Jewish community, to survive, must increase Hebrew education and strengthen spiritual bonds with Israel, Jewish leaders said at a conference on creative Jewish living sponsored by the Zionist Organization of America, at the Hotel Commodore, in New York.

Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, said, "the survival of Jews in America without Judaism would be a mockery." He said every worth-while thing accomplished by Jews throughout their history "goes back in its origins and motivations to the inspiration and impetus of Jewish spiritual values."

Dr. Nelson Glueck, president of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, said, "Unless we preserve and deepen and make ever more real and effective our Jewish consciousness and Jewish life here at home, we shall ultimately fail in everything else we attempt."

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, suggested that "human behavior might be changed to fulfill the vision of world brotherhood through the combined use of science, education and religion."

OLD BOX TO BE IN HEBREW U. CORNERSTONE

The Offering Box of the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue — oldest in the United States — was presented in New York by the Rev. Dr. David de Sola Pool, Rabbi, to Mrs. Samuel J. Rosensohn, president of Hadassah, who flew it to Israel where it will be deposited in the cornerstone of the new Hadassah - Hebrew University Medical Center, Jerusalem. The box, used for contributions by synagogue members, is nearly 100 years old. Originally it rested on the mill stones of the first grist mill in New York, where the first Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, Shearith Israel Congregation, was located.

When it was placed in the cornerstone of the 430-bed hospital in Jerusalem in ceremonies on June 5, it contained the microfilmed names of thousands of American contributors. In the ceremony at the synagogue, 99 Central Park West, Dr. Pool said that since it was established in 1654, Shearith Israel Congregation expressed "continued vivid interest" in the welfare of Jews in the Holy Land. Hadassah is the Women's Zionist Organization of America.

TEMPLE MARKS 90TH YEAR OF CONGREGATION

A three-day celebration of the ninetieth anniversary of Congregation Beth Elohim, Eighth Avenue and Garfield Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., took place with a supper dance, a children's carnival, and another dance for the junior congregation. The temple was originally established on Pearl Street, in the early days of the Reform, or Liberal, movement in Judaism. The charter required that services be held in German. As members moved to outlying districts, the congregation moved in 1906 to the more central site which has been known through the years as the "Garfield Temple."

Although the temple is approaching the century mark, it is still "new and young" in terms of the thousands of years of Jewish history, according to Rabbi Eugene Sack, director of the congregation.

A program of intensive courses in the Hebrew language, hitherto offered only to new immigrants, is now open to American tourists in Israel and to students who wish to work for short periods in agricultural settlements, says the Jewish Agency for Palestine at 16 East 66th Street, New York. The program, known as "Ulpanim," was established in 1949 and is now being offered to tourists. The courses last for five months and give participants a thorough grounding in modern Hebrew in a minimum period of time. The classes are for beginners and advanced students. A special five month "Ulpan" program for social workers subsidized by the Jewish Agency and the Israel Government, is also being offered at Nahariyah. The social workers must agree to serve a minimum of 18 months in Israel after the course is completed.

Rabbi Led In Mental Health Cause

Dr. B. Benedict Glazer, one of Detroit's outstanding civic leaders and rabbi of Temple Beth El, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in his home. He would have been 50 years old this month.

Probably best known for his efforts to improve mental health facilities in Michigan, Dr. Glazer was president of the Wayne County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Hygiene, and frequently appeared before the State Legislature to point out the overcrowding and inadequate conditions he said were present in the mental institutions.

Even in his sermons, Dr. Glazer carried on his campaign for better managed mental facilities, and in one of his recent talks said: "Mental hospitals are merely warehouses where we stack up people from public view. Our conscience is eased because we cannot see them."

Dr. Glazer came to Detroit in 1941 from Temple Emanu-El in New York, where he was senior associate rabbi for seven years. He was born in Dallas, Tex.; was ordained at the Hebrew Union College in 1928 and served in Pittsburgh before going to New York. He was the author of four books on religious subjects. Survivors include his widow, Ada; and two children, Mark Jonathan and Stephanie.

Cantor Joseph Eidelson, the last chief cantor of Vilna, Poland, before the Nazi invasion, has been engaged by East Midwood Jewish Center, 1625 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Cantor Eidelson survived four years in German concentration camps before he was released by American forces in 1945. From that time until he came to the United States in 1950 he served as cantor of Yeoville Synagogue, Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, and of Young Israel, in Montreal.

Mrs. J. Frankel, Hutchison Street, entertained about seventeen guests at a tea at Horn's Boulevard Restaurant, in celebration of the approaching marriage of Miss Toby Lightman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lightman, Durocher Avenue, whose marriage to the nephew of the hostess, Kenny Schmeltzman, Esplanade Avenue, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Schmeltzman, takes place at Beth David Synagogue on June 10. The hostess wore a grey crepe and lace dress, with a white felt hat; and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Lightman, wore a black printed crepe dress, with an egg-shell-shaded straw hat, and similar corsage. Miss Lightman, the bride-elect, wore a navy-blue crepe dress, made with a pink Peter Pan collar, and pleated skirt; also a navy-blue and pink straw hat, and a corsage of white gardenias. Roses, carnations, and gladioli formed the tea table centrepiece. A presentation of cutlery was made to the bride-elect.

Miss Shirley Pervin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pervin, Pine Avenue East, whose marriage to Marven Silverstein, son of Mrs. Dora Silverstein, Esplanade Avenue, and the late Joseph Silverstein, took place on June 1, at Chevra Kadisha Synagogue, was entertained prior to her approaching marriage by: Mrs. M. Pervin, Jeanne Mance Street, her grandmother, at a tea; Mr. and Mrs. S. Steinberg, McEachran Avevenue, at dinner; Mr. and Mrs. C. Pervin, Darlington Avenue, at tea; Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenberg, Jeanne Mance Street, at luncheon; all being uncles and aunts of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. E. Greenspoon, Maplewood Avenue, dinner and evening at a cabaret; and Miss Barbara Steinberg, McEachran Avenue, at a luncheon at La Maisonnette Carol, cousins of the bride; Mrs. I. Stupp, de l'Epee Avenue, at a kitchen-shower and tea; and Mr. and Mrs. B. Plotkin, City Hall Avenue, at dinner.

Mrs. P. Tanny, Northmount Avenue, entertained at a tea at La Maisonnette Carol with sixteen guests present, in honour of Miss Frances Scopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zalman Scopp, Ducharme Avenue, and fiancee of Jerome Sacks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sacks, de Vimy Avenue, whose marriage takes place on June 8, at Adath Israel Synagogue. The hostess wore a grey taffeta cocktail dress, white straw hat, and wristlet of Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Scopp was in a navy-blue crepe dress, with matching hat. Mrs. Sacks wore a navy-blue sheer dress over taffeta, and a white straw hat. The honouree wore a navy and white polka dot silk dress, with a white bolero, red straw hat; and corsage of red carnations. Mrs. K. Koldofsky, of Toronto, Ont.; grandmother of the groom-elect; and Mrs. N. Felton, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were present. The table adornment was a centrepiece of sweet peas, yellow roses, and snapdragons.

Entertaining for Miss Frances Scopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zalman Scopp, Ducharme Avenue; and fiancee of Jerome Martin Sacks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sacks, de Vimy Avenue, whose marriage takes place on June 8, at Adath Israel Synagogue, the mother of the groom-elect was hostess at the tea hour in the Green Room, Ritz Carlton Hotel, with about forty-five guests present. Mrs. A. Stein, Phillips Avenue, and Mrs. S. Sacks, de Vimy Avenue, aunt of the groom-elect, assisted in pouring. The floral centrepiece was in pink, composed of snapdragons, roses, and carnations. Mrs. Herbert A. Sacks, Phillips Avenue, sister-in-law of the groom-elect, entertained at tea at Ruby Foo's, with about twenty-five guests present. The table flowers were a centrepiece of red and white carnations. Mrs. Samuel Sacks, de Vimy Avenue, aunt of the groom-elect, was hostess at a tea in the Pavilion of the La Salle Hotel, with about twenty-eight guests present. Snapdragons formed the table centrepiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grill, Esplanade Avenue, gave a reception for the immediate family to celebrate the occasion of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Fay Grill, of Dovrat, Israel, to Ben Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bauer, of Dovrat, formerly of Vienna, Austria. Assisting in serving were: Mesdames B. H. Ostroff, D. Lazarovitch, and L. Marcovitch, aunts of the bride-elect. Gladioli which were used to decorate the house were a gift from their son, Manuel Grill. Mrs. Grill received in a navy-blue crepe print dress, with white accessories. Pictures were taken by their son, David Grill. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Ostroff, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lazarovitch, Mr. and Mrs. L. Marcovitch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barmash, Mrs. F. Barmish, uncles and aunts of the bride-elect, and Mrs. B. Cooperman, great-aunt of the bride-elect. At a cocktail party with twelve guests present, Mrs. Grill wore a brown taffeta dress and turquoise blue accessories, a gift from her daughter, Miss Fay Grill, of Israel. Gladioli decorated the table.

Miss Fanny Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Friedman, 5120 Maplewood Avenue, formerly of Tegocigalpa, Honduras, whose marriage to Joseph Orenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Orenstein, 4340 Hampton Avenue, took place on June 1, at Adath Israel Synagogue, was entertained at a tea by Mrs. Nathan Cohen, 5051 Clanranald Avenue. The hostess wore a navy-blue crepe dress, styled with a pointed collar, three-quarter-length sleeves, and slim skirt, with two pockets. Mrs. Friedman wore a black crepe dress, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar, three-quarter-length sleeves, [illegible] skirt; also a black straw picture hat, and black and white accessories. Mrs. Orenstein wore a brown crepe dress, having a pointed collar, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a slim skirt; also a natural straw hat, and brown accessories. Miss Friedman, the honoree, wore a navy-blue crepe dress. It had a Peter Pan collar, peg-top skirt, and a matching jacket, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and three-quarter-length sleeves, trimmed with navy-blue polka-dotted material. She had a navy-blue and white straw sailor hat, and navy-blue accessories. A presentation was made.

Miss Miriam Ferstenfeld, Villeneuve Street West, entertained about fifteen guests at an odd cup and saucer shower, to honor Miss Mildred Dishell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Dishell, St. Urbain Street, whose marriage to Samuel Kligman, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kligman, Clark Street, took place on June 1. The hostess wore a grey shantung dress, made with a stand-up collar, and plunging, V-shaped neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a full skirt; and had a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Dishell wore a royal-blue shantung dress which had a square neckline, and short sleeves, with white pique trimming on the collar and cuffs; also a white straw hat, and navy-blue accessories. Mrs. Kligman wore a black printed silk dress, styled with a high neckline, short sleeves, and slim skirt; and had a natural straw hat. Miss Dishell, the honoree, wore a powder-blue ottoman two-piece suit-dress which had a lapelled collar, long sleeves, and slim skirt, with a padded hip-line finishing the jacket; also a white nylon blouse, and red snakeskin shoes. Roses, carnations, gladioli, and irises decorated the table.

David Aaron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bloomfield, Pratt Avenue, was called to the Reading of the Law at Adath Israel Synagogue on May 24. He is the brother of Judith, Rhona, and Sandra; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. Zackon, Plamondon Avenue; and of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bloomfield, Ridgewood Avenue. Kiddush followed; and a luncheon at home for the immediate family had fifty guests present. Bernard Stein, Circle Road, was master of ceremonies; and speakers were David Aaron, the bar-mitzvah; Mr. Bloomfield, the father; M. Zackon, grandfather; and Rabbi Charles Bender. The table centrepieces were of roses, carnations, gladioli, snapdragons, and irises. The following day there was a dinner with seventy-five guests present, followed by a cocktail reception, and dancing to an orchestra. Joe Messing, Deacon Road, was master of ceremonies, at this occasion; and speakers were Mr. Zackon, the grandfather; Mr. Bloomfield; Philip Garonce, Dalou Avenue; Harry Kliger, Bagg Avenue; and A. Stull, of Salem, Mass. Guests present from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Katz and children, Beverly and Karen, uncle, aunt, and cousin; and Mrs. I. Chaikin and sons, Daniel and Morris, all of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Samuel Patetsky, of Newark, N. J., uncle; and Mr. and Mrs. A. Stull and son, Gordon, of Salem, Mass.

Hostesses entertaining at a linen shower at the Bucharest for Miss Hedy Wexler, daughter of Mrs. J. Wexler, St. Urbain Street, and the late J. Wexler, who is the fiancee of Samuel Gluss, Hutchison Street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Gluss, were Mesdames S. Teifer, aunt of the bride-elect, and F. Hertz, cousin of the bride-elect, both of Pine Avenue East; S. Dagowitz, St. Catherine Road, cousin of the bride-elect; and J. Isaeman, Clark Street. There were one hundred and fifty guests present. Mrs. Teifer wore a grey crepe dress, having a square neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and flared skirt; Mrs. Dagowitz, a navy-blue crepe dress, with square neckline, short sleeves, slim skirt; also a red straw hat; each with corsage of red carnations; Mrs. Isaeman, a grey-blue print crepe dress, designed with shawl collar, short sleeves, slim skirt; also a grey straw hat; and Mrs. Wexler, a two-piece silk suit, which had a lapel collar, short sleeves, slim skirt; also a pink straw hat; each with corsage of pink carnations. Miss Wexler, the honouree, wore a navy-blue nylon cocktail dress in off-the-shoulder style, having a flared skirt, also a matching bolero jacket, with Peter Pan collar, and short sleeves. She had a white flowered hat, and corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Hertz was unable to be present. The table flowers were roses, carnations, gladioli, and irises. The wedding will take place on July 6, at Chevra Kadisha Synagogue.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Godfrey, St. Viateur Street West, celebrated the bar-mitzvah of their son, Michael Edward, who was called to the Reading of the Law at Tifereth Israel Synagogue. He is the brother of Dena; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. P. Feldstein, Papineau Avenue; and of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Godfrey, Clark Street. Kiddush was observed. At a dinner, one hundred and thirty guests were received, among them, Mr. and Mrs. J. Oiswang, of New York. The hostess wore a heaven-blue paper taffeta cocktail dress, fashioned with a low, round neckline, and cap sleeves, and a slim skirt; with a jacket, styled with a peplum, a Queen Elizabeth collar, and three-quarter-length sleeves, with a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Feldstein, the grandmother, wore a navy-blue crepe and lace cocktail dress, with a V-shaped neckline, double, reverred collar, short sleeves and a slim skirt, and a matching bolero jacket, with long sleeves. Her corsage was of red roses. Mrs. Godfrey, the grandmother, wore a black crepe dress, with a V-shaped neckline, shawl collar, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a slim skirt; with a corsage of red roses. Dena wore yellow taffeta over crinoline. Styled with a Peter Pan collar, trimmed with lace, and puffed sleeves, the dress had an apron-effect over-skirt trimmed with rosettes; and was worn with yellow shoes, and a yellow hair-ribbon. The speakers were: I. R. Prazoff, Mackenzie Avenue, the toastmaster; H. D. Godfrey, Henri Julien Street, and L. Feldstein, St. Catherine Road, uncles of Michael Edward; Mr. Godfrey, and Michael Edward, who spoke in English, and Yiddish; and J. Lerner, Outremont Avenue, the teacher; and Harry Pencer, representing Knights of Pythias. Ben Deutsch, Mackenzie Avenue, said the prayers. Dinner was served by candlelight. The head-table had two large arrangements of tulips, gladioli, and ferns, and large candles tied with blue ribbon. The small tables had decoration of candles tied with white ribbon bows.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Dickstein, Canterbury Avenue, celebrated the bar-mitzvah of their son, Alvin Charles, who was called to the Reading of the Law at Young Israel Synagogue. He is the brother of Myrna and Ruth; grandson of Mrs. N. Mandelcorn, Park Avenue, and the late M. Mandelcorn. One hundred and eighty-five guests were present at a Kiddush luncheon at the Synagogue. Receiving, the hostess wore a navy-blue taffeta dress, cut with a square-cut neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a drape-effect on the skirt; also a white straw hat, with white beading, and a mauve orchid corsage. Mrs. Mandelcorn, the grandmother, wore a black crepe and lace dress, styled with a V-shaped neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a slim skirt. Her white and black straw hat was trimmed with crystal beading, and her corsage was of red roses. Myrna wore a powder-blue net dress over taffeta, styled with a Chinese-effect neckline, puffed sleeves, and a full, crinoline-effect skirt; and had a cluster of pink, white, and blue flowers. Ruth was not able to be present. The table centrepieces were composed of snapdragons, irises, stocks, and roses; and an archway, covered with arrangements of these flowers, marked the receiving line, with standards of palms. Max Rosenthal, Van Horne Avenue, was master of ceremonies. At a reception at home that evening, Mrs. Dickstein wore a black crepe dress, with insertions of net and lace; and trimmed with black beading at the neckline; with long sleeves, and a slim skirt. Here for the occasion were: Mrs. B. Feinstein, and daughter, Miss Pearl Feinstein, and son, Abe Feinstein, of Ottawa, Ont., aunt, and cousins of Alvin Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mandelcorn, of Malartic, uncle and aunt; and Alan Dickstein, of Burlington Vt., Airman Second Class, United States Air Force, a cousin.

"... the building of my herd"

Many a farmer knows that initiative, hard work and the financial support of the bank can all play their part in developing a successful farming operation.

One such man, a rancher in the West, recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I wish to express my appreciation of the way your bank has treated me through the years ... the encouragement you have given me in the building of my herd. I feel the success we have achieved could hardly have been obtained without your intelligent support."

The farmer uses bank credit in many ways: to develop his land, buy livestock and equipment, market crops. Aiding Canada's food producers is an important part of the broad service the chartered banks perform for all Canadians.

HEINZ puts in the CREAM

You add ONLY water

RESULT: real Cream of Tomato Soup

a "milchig meichel"

• When you buy straight Tomato Soup and add an equal amount of milk to produce a soup that tastes something like Cream of Tomato Soup, you lose out on getting a rich, creamy flavour and you also lose out on the cost—especially the way prices are today.

Why not buy Cream of Tomato Soup to start with, or made by Heinz. Then you can save on milk and get a better result by simply adding water.

Remember, too, that this soup is much more flavourful because only pedigreed tomatoes are good enough for Heinz.

Try a comparison between straight tomato soup diluted with milk and Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup with only water added. Taste the wonderful difference!

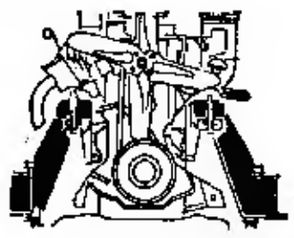
Receiving one hundred and fifty guests, were the hostesses: Mesdames P. Rothman, City Hall Avenue, and Mrs. A. Zelnicker, City Hall Avenue, aunts of the groom-elect; and Mrs. B. Kaplan, City Hall Avenue, sister of the bride-elect. Mrs. Rothman wore a blue organdy dress, trimmed with white, over taffeta slip; and made with a heart-shaped neckline, short sleeves, and full skirt; also a red straw hat, and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Zelnicker wore a black crepe crepe dress, trimmed with white lace, and designed with a square neckline, and slim skirt; with a matching, short-sleeved, bolero jacket; also a red straw hat, and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Kaplan wore a powder-blue two-piece crepe suit-dress, with a shawl collar, short sleeves, and tightly-fitted bodice, with a flared skirt; also a white straw hat, and corsage of white roses. Mrs. Claman, mother of the bride-elect, wore a navy-blue shantung dress, cut with a square neckline, short sleeves, and princess skirt; also a white straw hat, with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Gelfand, mother of the groom-elect, was dressed in a two-piece black shantung suit, designed with a lapelled collar, short sleeves, and slim skirt; and had a black and white straw hat, and a corsage of sweet peas. Miss Claman, the honoree, was in a black paper taffeta strapless dress, with a slim skirt, worn with a silver-shaded and black brocaded bolero jacket, styled with a stand-up collar, and cap sleeves; also a black straw picture hat, and a corsage of red roses. Roses, carnations, and lilies-of-the-valley were combined to adorn the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greenberg, Esplanade Avenue, entertained on two successive evenings to celebrate the engagement of their youngest daughter Miss Esther Greenberg, to Saul Sierzyk, de l'Epee Avenue, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Sierzyk. On the first evening, thirty guests were present, friends of the family. Mrs. Greenberg wore a printed grey crepe dress, with a V-shaped neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a full skirt. Miss Greenberg, the bride-elect, wore a yellow net cocktail dress, over a taffeta slip, with an off-the-shoulder neckline, bouffant skirt, and a matching stole; with a corsage of red and yellow rosebuds. Assisting in serving were the sisters of the bride-elect, Mrs. William Ratner, St. Andre Street, in a printed grey crepe dress, styled with a V-shaped neckline, short sleeves, and slim skirt; and Mrs. N. Bailey, St. Urbain Street, in a navy-blue taffeta dress, made with a V-shaped neckline, stand-up collar, short sleeves, and a flared skirt, with rhinestone accessories; and Mrs. J. Greenberg, St. Hubert Street, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, in a navy-blue ottoman dress, trimmed with checked taffeta, and made with three-quarter-length sleeves, and a flared skirt; having a scarf of checked taffeta draped around the shoulderline, and an insertion of checked taffeta on the skirt; and Mrs. A. Greenberg, Querbes Avenue, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, in a brown crepe dress, cut with a V-shaped neckline, short sleeves, and flared skirt. On the second evening, thirty guests were present, members of the immediate family. Receiving, the hostess wore a turquoise-blue crepe dress, cut with a V-shaped neckline, long sleeves, and a slim skirt. Miss Greenberg, the bride-elect, wore a grey dressmaker suit-dress of light gabardine, fashioned with a lapelled collar, long sleeves, and flared skirt; also a matching yellow nylon blouse; and had a corsage of red and yellow rosebuds. Assisting, Mrs. Ratner wore a copper-colored gabardine suit; Mrs. Bailey, a navy-blue and white crepe dress; Mrs J. Greenberg, a blue checked ottoman dress; and Mrs. A. Greenberg, a black printed crepe dress. Presentations were made to the bride-elect on each occasion. Roses were used to decorate. Here for both parties were Mr. and Mrs. J. Topper, of Newark, N. J., cousins of the groom-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shames, Hutchison Street, celebrated the bar-mitzvah of their son, Ronald, who was called to the Reading of the Law at Shomrim Laboker Synagogue. He is the brother of Miss Sandra Shames; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. Nadler, Jeanne Mance Street; and of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Shames. Mrs. Shames wore a grey brocaded two-piece dress, trimmed with black velvet, and a pink hat. Miss Shames, sister of the bar-mitzvah boy, wore a beige gabardine suit, with purple accessories. The following evening there was a dinner and dance at 4114 St. Lawrence Boulevard, with one hundred guests present. Mrs. Shames received, wearing a light grey nylon cocktail-length dress over pink, fashioned with a square neckline, cap sleeves, and ballet-length skirt. Her corsage was of pink roses. Miss Shames, who assisted her mother in receiving, wore a grey nylon net dress, trimmed with purple roses. She had a wristlet of white carnations and purple ribbon. Also seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. A. Nadler, the grandparents, the latter in a navy-blue crepe dress and lace dress, and corsage of yellow roses; Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Caplan, uncle and aunt, the latter in a black nylon taffeta cocktail dress, with white pearls and rhinestone, and a matching nylon stole, and a corsage of white roses; Mrs. E. Kofsky, great-aunt of the bar-mitzvah-boy, in a black dress, with corsage of red roses; Mrs. J. Meiser, aunt, of Lawrence, Mass., in a wine-coloured dress, with a corsage of red roses; Sol. Greenberg; Charles Nadler, cousin of the bar-mitzvah-boy, master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Nadler; and Rabbi M. Zalmanovitch, teacher of Ronald, and Mrs. Zalmanovitch. Uncles and aunts who were also present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. Heracovitch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Drimer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robins, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nadler, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nadler, Miss Bea Nadler, S. Nadler, Mr. and Mrs. B. Shames, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Levenson. Ronald spoke in English and Jewish. Other speakers were: his father; I. Kugelmass, a great-uncle; Rabbi M. Zalmanovitch, his teacher; and Charles Nadler, a cousin. The latter and Mrs. Pearl Dubin sang. There were table compositions of snapdragons, roses, and carnations, and yellow and blue candles were lit throughout the room. Mrs. J. Meister lit the birthday candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Barkun, 738 Wiseman Avenue, celebrated the bar-mitzvah of their son, Stanley, who was called to the Reading of the Law at Adath Israel Synagogue. He is the brother of Teddy and Michael; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Coddak, Colonial Avenue. There was a Kiddush at the Synagogue; and the following day, a dinner dance at the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Receiving two hundred guests in the Green Room at the Hotel, Mrs. Barkun wore an accordion-pleated white nylon gown, made on Grecian lines, circled at the waistline with a crushed red taffeta cummerbund which formed a pouff at the back; and had an orchid corsage. Mrs. Coddak, the grandmother, wore a plum-colored crepe dinner gown, styled with a V-shaped neckline, long sleeves, and slim skirt; with a corsage of Talisman roses. Assisting were Stanley's aunts: Mesdames J. Boretsky, Wiseman Avenue, in a navy-blue chiffon cocktail dress, over taffeta, with embroidered applique of navy-blue taffeta, and a corsage of red Sweetheart roses; Mrs. M. Hyman, Esplanade Avenue, in a white silk organza cocktail dress, with black polka dot print, also a black sheer duster, and a similar corsage; and Mrs. Shifra Barkun, Bloomfield Avenue, in a navy-blue crepe dress, with powder-blue metallic trimming, made with short sleeves, and a slim skirt, with a cape-effect jacket; and had a similar corsage. A trio played while hors d'oeuvres were served in the Blue Room. While dinner was served in the Ballroom, a trio played, with a singer as soloist; and there was an orchestra for dancing. Seated at the head table with Mr. and Mrs. Barkun and family, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Coddak, the grandparents; A. Coddak, Colonial Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. J. Boretsky, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hyman, Esplanade Avenue; O. Barcun, of New York; and Mrs. Shifra Barkun, Bloomfield Avenue; all uncles and aunts of Stanley; R. Dennick, Mountain Sights Avenue, his great-uncle; S. Perlman, Stuart Avenue, his teacher; J. F. Stewart, principal of Guy Drummond School, and Mrs. Stewart; and H. H. Stein, Dorchester Street West, who was master of ceremonies; and Mr. Stewart; Stanley, and his mother, Mrs. Barkun, spoke. Taking part in a ceremony to light the candles on the bar-mitzvah cake, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Coddak, Stanley's grandparents; R. Dennick, his great-uncle, with Miss Esther Kodak, Van Horne Avenue, cousin of Stanley; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Youster, Van Horne Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kodak, Carlton Avenue, all cousins of Stanley; O. Barcun, uncle, of New York, with Mrs. Shifra Barkun; Mr. and Mrs. J. Boretsky, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hyman, all uncles and aunts; Mr. and Mrs. P. Boretsky, Fulton Avenue, cousins; A. Coddak, Colonial Avenue, uncle, with Miss Barbara Kodak, Carlton Avenue, cousin; Seymour Barcun, of New York, a cousin, with Miss Beryl Youster, Van Horne Avenue, a cousin; and other cousins, Mr. and Mrs. I. Endleman, Mountain Sights Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. M. Dennick, Querbes Avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. I. Letichevsky, de Vimy Avenue. Teddy carried his brother's talith; and Michael, the prayer-book. The parents followed, with Stanley. The receiving line in the Green Room, was marked by standards of white flowering dogwood trees. In the Blue Room, where the hors d'oeuvres were served, the buffet tables held two large compositions of red Sweetheart roses, white gladioli, and blue irises. In the Ballroom, the tables were adorned with centrepieces of red Sweetheart roses, ferns, and Esther Reid daisies, clustered around blue candles; and the head table was arranged with white snapdragons, red roses, and blue irises. Arrangements of potted tulip plants and white gladioli, red roses, and blue irises were placed in a semi-circle in front of the stage; and standards of these same flowers formed the colour scheme throughout all the rooms.

NEW 1952 Chevrolet



Centrepoise Power
Engine vibration and power impulses are "screened out" — isolated from driver and passengers. Engine rides flexibly suspended between new high-side mountings.

Extra Large Brakes
Chevrolet's Jumbo-Drum brakes, with their big 11-inch brake drums, apply more leverage for more stopping power. Bonded linings last up to twice as long.

Lowest Priced in its Field!
Chevrolet, the Leader, is the lowest priced car in its field. It's Canada's most beautiful low-priced car — and Canada's most wonderful motor car value!

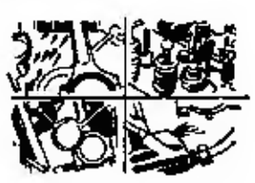
Only Chevrolet, the lowest-priced fine car, offers all these extra features!

Here is only a partial listing of the wonderful array of extra features offered to you by Chevrolet, the lowest-priced fine car. Every single one of them means extra pleasure, extra safety, or extra economy for you. Yet again in 1952 Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field! Come in and see for yourself!

Body by Fisher
Fisher Body sets the standard for styling and craftsmanship. And Fisher Unisteel construction guards you with solid all-steel strength.

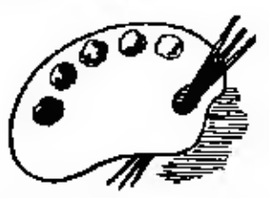
Unitized Knee-Action Ride
Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now even softer, smoother. New shock absorber action smothers bumps and jolts more quickly.

Widest Travel
Chevrolet measures a full 58¾ inches between centres of rear wheels — providing a broader base to give more all-round stability.



4-Way Engine Lubrication
Chevrolet's exclusive engine lubricating system supplies exactly the right kind and amount of lubrication to each moving part.

Cast Iron Alloy Pistons
Pistons are formed from the same material as the cylinder block — expand and contract at the same rate. This reduces piston wear and oil consumption.



Gorgeous New Exterior Colors
Rich and beautiful color combinations . . . the most wonderful array in the entire low-price field. In De Luxe series, interiors and exteriors are distinctively color-matched.

Powerglide Automatic Transmission
It's simpler with fewer parts to wear or require adjustment. It's smoother because oil does it all without complicated intermediate gears. Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

Powerful Valve-in-Head Engine
Teamed with Powerglide is the powerful Valve-in-Head engine, an outstanding performer in any field! This engine's Hydraulic-Hushed valve lifters are another important Chevrolet exclusive.

Gill Tinted Glass with the Shaded Windshield
Chevrolet offers tinted glass with exclusive, shaded windshield-tinting. Tinted glass all 'round helps you drive more safely and comfortably. (Optional at extra cost).

CLASS IN COOKERY

SWISS RICE MOULD

three and one-half cups cooked rice
two tablespoons fat
one onion, sliced
two tablespoons green pepper, or pickle, chopped dash of pepper and celery salt one and one-half cups tinned tomatoes one and one-half cups grated sharp cheese
one teaspoon salt

Cook washed rice in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, and rinse with boiling water, and then measure. Heat fat in frying pan. Add onion; sliced green pepper or pickle, and cook and stir until onion is tender, but not brown. Add tomatoes, and rice. Cook slowly until rice has absorbed the liquid. Add grated cheese and seasoning. Pack mixture into a well-oiled nine-inch ring mould, or a long, low pan. Bake in a moderate oven until firm. Unmould on a hot platter. Serve with any vegetable, or eggs, for six.

Mrs. H. Small,
4616 Harvard Avenue, Montreal.

STUFFED BAKED FISH

one lake trout three tablespoons butter or margarine one-quarter cup chopped onion one-half cup chopped fresh or canned mushrooms two and one-half cups bread cubes two eggs (well beaten)
one-half teaspoon salt
one-eighth teaspoon pepper
one tablespoon chopped parsley

Have fish thoroughly cleaned, with scales, entrails, gills, and eyes removed; slit up one side; then wipe inside of fish with towel. Stir onions and mushrooms in hot melted butter from five to seven minutes over moderate heat; add bread crumbs, seasoning and stir well, until light brown; then remove from heat. When cool, add well beaten eggs, and mix thoroughly. Fill inside of fish with stuffing, sew up opening, and place fish in well-buttered baking dish. Dust with flour, add few dots of butter on top, and bake in 350-degree oven for forty to forty-five minutes. Remove from oven, pull out thread, and slice for serving.

Woman Was Noted In Fashion Field

Claire A. Wolff, fashion publicist, died in New York, in Doctors Hospital, where she had undergone an operation for a gall bladder ailment. Her age was 47. Miss Wolff, who was educated at Theresa Aub Secretarial and Finishing School, Hunter College and Columbia University, was the widow of Henry D. Ellenbogen.

Early in her career, she entered the publicity field as business manager and agent for the motion-picture actress, Alice Joyce. In 1939, Miss Wolff opened her own office as a public relations counsel and five years later added advertising counseling to her operations.

In addition to her extensive work in the fashion field, Miss Wolff offered her services to such philanthropic organizations as the Educational Alliance and Settlement House. In the international field, she organized "Tighten Your Belt Week" in cooperation with the United Nations Appeal for Children, says the New York Times.

Miss Wolff has been credited in her fashion promotion campaigns with reviving knitting and increasing the use of rabbit fur (coney) in hats and coats. The idea of the United States postage stamp commemorating the four World War II chaplains who went down with their ships was conceived by her. The American Public Relations Association award for 1947 was presented to Miss Wolff for her public relations and sales promotion campaign for the Association of Knitted Glove and Mitten Manufacturers.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Rosenberg and Mrs. Ada Bacher; and five brothers, Irving, Charles, Henry, Arthur and Albert Wolff.

Y.W.C.A. Joins Council In Freedom Drive

The Young Women's Christian Association, disturbed by "growing restrictions" on freedom of expression in America, has joined the National Council of Jewish Women in a nation-wide U.S. campaign to "revive the climate of opinion for the free exchange of ideas."

Announcement of the Y. W. C. A.'s participation in the "freedom campaign," begun by the Council on February 17, was made in a joint statement released February by Mrs. Arthur Forrest Anderson, retiring president of the association, and Mrs. Irving M. Engel, council president.

"We do not believe our country can preserve liberty by curtailing it," the statement said. "The rights of a free people are neither self-perpetuating nor frozen into permanent being by inclusion in the Constitution. To survive under strong, these rights must be asserted and reasserted. Freedom, to be kept alive, must be used. To encourage this fuller use is our objective."

The national offices in New York of both organizations are instructing their local affiliates throughout the country to set up local "freedom campaign committees" to carry out the program, according to the statement.

The Council recently announced, as one of the campaign's first projects, a nationwide contest among college seniors, offering $5,000 in prizes for the best essays on the Meaning of Academic Freedom." The contest closes December 31.

Mentally retarded children can often be helped to live as nearly normal a life as their capacity to learn will permit. Classes to give suitable training to such children often teach simple skills, sometimes training the child so that he may later contribute to his own livelihood.

Flaky COFFEE CAKES

• Scald ⅔ c. cream, 2 tbs. granulated sugar, 1 tsp. salt and ¾ c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.

Add cooled cream mixture and stir in 3 well-beaten eggs. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2½ c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Mix ¾ c. granulated sugar and 2 tsps. ground cinnamon; sprinkle half of this mixture on baking board. Divide dough into 2 equal portions and turn out one portion onto prepared board. Roll out into a 12" square; fold from back to front and from one side to the other. Repeat rolling and folding 3 more times, flouring board lightly if it becomes sticky. Seal edges of folded dough and place in a greased 8" square cake pan and pat out to fit the pan; butter top lightly and press walnut halves well into the dough. Sprinkle remaining sugar and cinnamon mixture on board and treat second portion of dough same as first portion. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°, 15 mins., while preparing the following syrup: simmer together for 5 mins., 1 c. granulated sugar, ½ tsp. grated orange rind, ⅓ c. butter or margarine and ⅓ c. orange juice. Quickly pour hot syrup over the 2 partially-baked cakes and bake cakes about 15 mins. longer. Stand baked cakes on cake coolers for 20 minutes, then loosen edges and gently shake from pans.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved mother, Ida Solt, who passed away June 1, 1939.

She oft times said we'd miss her,
Her words have proved too true,
We lost our best, our dearest friend,
Dear mother, when we lost you.

Ever remembered by daughters, Mrs. J. Silver (Anne); Mrs. A. Korsen (Belle); Mrs. S. Wayne (Lilyan).

U.S. SEMINARY

equal in right to all other free peoples we need no longer be sensitive to anti-Jewish calumnies and we do not have to concern ourselves with apologies.

"As free men we can—and indeed we must—see ourselves in the past and present as we are with all our faults and inadequacies and defects. Instead of pointing out our good sides to others we will endeavor to develop our blessed heritage and to inculcate in ourselves all the positive human qualities for we are part of humanity, and nothing human is alien to us.

"We will shape our lives and our culture in loyalty to the great light of our past, participating to the fullest extent possible in fundamental human values developed by the great thinkers and teachers of our day."

BAR-MITZVAHS

Marvin Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Weber, 14 Markdale Avenue, will be called to the Reading of the Law on June 7, at Shomrai Shaboth Synagogue. He is the brother of Herbert; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. Halberstadt, Harbord Street. Kiddush will follow services. Open house will be held in the evening at home.

people, knowledge, determination and natural assets."

In citing an example of the makeshift methods forced by shortage of funds Mr. Sharett pointed to a bumper grain crop just achieved in the almost unsettled Negeb region. His government, he stated, was compelled to enlist temporarily hundreds of veteran farmers of the established colonies of Israel's northern region and rush them to the Negeb to sow and reap 175,000 acres of barley and wheat.

If adequate funds had been available for the colonization of the Negeb, he added, this cumbersome agricultural operation would have been unnecessary. He asserted that a "greatly increased local population" was needed to fill the Negeb vacuum and help Israel "to live and prosper."

He predicted a great industrial and commercial future for his country, emphasizing that funds must be raised through the United Jewish Appeal to enable the settlement of the Negeb frontier, along with other areas. The development of the Negeb, he noted, would result in the conversion of the extreme southern port village of Elath into a vital shipping center "linking Israel with the rapidly developing countries of Africa and Asia."

Mr. Sharett said that his nation welcomed the investment of private American capital, and the mass purchase of State of Israel bonds. Debt-free dollars made available through the United Jewish Appeal, he added, "could help tasks of human rehabilitation, projects of reclamation and development and the hundred and one initial services required by an immigrant population."

both those who insist on an independent Ukraine and those who envision the area as part of a general Russian federation, inherit a long history of violent and genocidal anti-Semitism, the report declares, although some of them pretended ignorance of this legacy. A violent anti-Semitic anthem, officially adopted by the Hitler collaborator, Stephan Benders, whose forces "slaughtered 5,000 Ukrainians, several thousand Poles and 15,000 Jews in a six-week period," is still being sung by his followers, the study reports. While one or two of the Ukrainian nationalist ideologists have spoken in favor of a rapprochement with the Jews, the study points out that "the desire to have the Jews as allies in the struggle for Ukrainian separation plays an important part" in these statements.

In releasing the study, Dr. Nehemiah Robinson, director of the World Jewish Congress' Institute of Jewish Affairs, declared: "The unquestionable anti-Semitism of these Russian emigre groups is an excellent indication of their general anti-democratic and pro-Fascist orientation. They are unfit allies for the United States in the titanic world-wide struggle to preserve democracy against totalitarian pressures, and the support, official, unofficial, and semi-official, which they receive from the United States only serves to confuse our true allies among the democratic peoples of the world."

The Call Of Sinai

(From an address by Dr. Stern at the confirmation and Shabuoth service at Temple Emanu-El)

Through the years, it has been for me an experience of joy and pride as on Shabuoth, I blessed the confirmants, and this is the twenty-fifth confirmation class of my ministry here in Montreal. But on this Shabuoth, I experience something quite new and thrilling. I am privileged to hear along with the voices of other boys and girls, the voice of my own daughter pronouncing the covenant of Sinai. Thus, with all the parents of the Confirmants I recite the ancient benediction of Shecheyonu: "Praised be Thou, O, Lord, Our God, Ruler of the world, who has granted us life, sustained us and brought us to this day."

I should like to speak first to the confirmants and then address myself to parents. I know for you confirmants the past weeks have been very busy ones. You hardly had time to think through the meaning of this solemn occasion. Will you therefore relax for a little while now and reflect with me as to the significance of this holy hour. Be sure this confirmation service is not just a public ritual. It is not a time merely for receiving gifts. The important fact is that, according to our Jewish tradition, you are now morally responsible, though not legally. You are now morally responsible to God and man.

Then, too, I should like for you at this time to give thought to your parents. How thrilled we, your parents, are, in seeing you occupying seats on the Pulpit platform this day. How we have looked forward to this time when we can say: you are our equals. From now on, we who have helped you in the past, expect you in turn to help us and give us comfort. From now on, we together are to share in the responsibility of our Jewishness.

I should like to underscore the fact that holding membership in the community of Israel is a privilege. There is the privilege, to begin with, of our glorious historic past. Before this Western Hemisphere was touched by the white man, before Canada came into existence, when England was a land of darkness, and the peoples of Europe were roaming its forests and fields clad as half-savages, your people and mine were building temples in Jerusalem and giving prophets and priests to the world. Indeed, in your veins flows the blood of a great people, an old people with a continuous history!

Not only is our past glorious. Behold, our glorious present! Israel in our own day has started on a fresh career. In the ancient land of our fathers, we are building anew, not for ourselves alone but for all mankind. We are an old people and yet a young people. How thrilling it is that on the very border of Sinai, this past week a new synagogue was dedicated and in the Holy Ark of that synagogue there was placed the Torah which originally came from Sinai and thus was returned to Sinai.

The Torah we ask you to accept in confirmation of Judaism is the living truth of human wisdom and experience. It offers the fullest scope and the greatest encouragement to men and women who would endeavour to make the most of life. Suppose we assembled the wisest men in the world and asked them to formulate an ideal religion for mankind, could they produce anything better than a statement of basic Judaism?

Privilege entails responsibility. You are thus responsible first and foremost to be loyal to the faith. How appropriate it is that on Shabuoth we read from the Book of Ruth, giving recognition to that noble woman not born within Israel, who accepted the Code of Sinai and became confirmed in the faith of Judaism. Never for a moment hesitate to live the faith of your fathers in the sight of all men. Loyalty to your own faith will bring to you respect. Yours will be self-respect and self-reverence. Alas, how tragic are the lives of those who desert the heritage of the Jew!

Another responsibility of yours is that of ever being true to the spirit of Liberal Judaism. Because yours has been the privilege of being disciplined in the Liberal interpretation of the faith, it is ever incumbent upon you to be forward looking and to be identified with those movements of social justice as were taught by the Jewish prophets to help men live lives of dignity. As Liberals in the Jewish community, you should have appreciation for every interpretation of Jewishness and appreciate that these are but the colors and beauty that make up the rainbow of the Jewish heritage.

In the ancient Temple, the cherubim, inscribed on the curtain of the Ark, faced each other and had their wings spread out. What a remarkable symbol! Yours must ever be the duty to bring men of every race and every creed to face each other and cause increased understanding and religious fellowship and thus, in the spirit of prophetic Judaism, help build the one world, which is rooted in the doctrine of the One God.

In your personal lives, yours must ever be the responsibility as Jews to live on the highest of ethical standards. As members of the Jewish community, you must ever realize that you are God's witness, the bearers of the moral law for all mankind.

And now a word to parents. This confirmation hour calls for re-confirmation in the faith of Judaism on the part of parents. It is not an easy time in which to be a parent. These are difficult days. The extreme doctrines of progressive education have often misled parents to refrain from disciplining their children. The home is no longer the supreme moulder of young people. Too many parents have abdicated their authority, hence the increase in juvenile delinquency.

Shabuoth is a reminder to Jews of the sanctity of Jewish family life. According to tradition, our fathers at Sinai pledged their children as a guarantee that the Torah would ever be kept and reverenced. Parents must set the example in religious expression and religious conduct. Parents must continue to study Judaism. Parents cannot afford to be Jewishly illiterate. Together parents and children are to pilgrimage regularly to God's House and there drink from the living fountain of Judaism and find inspiration for Jewish living and striving.

In this critical hour for both Jew and non-Jew comes the call of Sinai. Many moderns do not believe in the dramatic story of Sinai as revealed in Scripture. Perhaps the very moral chaos of our day is to be traced to the fact that the rationalist and materialist have dethroned God as the motivation for holiness. Life has become mechanized and despiritualized. At last mankind has achieved the capacity to destroy itself. Everything that is precious now hovers in the balance. The living God is delivering an ultimatum, not the military leaders in this critical hour for mankind. Will man at last learn to become human? Will man cast aside that which divides him from fellow man — greed, lust, and power? Will man at last begin to institute the co-operative world order and direct his life by following the moral law of Sinai?

Rabbi Leo Jung, leader of the Jewish Center, in New York, received a lifetime contract to continue in his present capacity during a testimonial dinner given by officers and trustees of the center at the Waldorf-Astoria. William Feinberg, chairman of the board, presented the contract to Rabbi Jung. The dinner was to celebrate Rabbi Jung's sixtieth birthday and thirtieth anniversary as leader of the center. He is also professor of ethics and a trustee of Yeshiva University.
